Administrative history

The Fort William Police Athletic Club was formed in Jan. 1925 and open to all members of the force. It was organized to promote athletics and physical exercise, and to cater to the social and entertainment needs of its members. Committees included finance, relief and sick (also known as sick and visiting), athletics and entertainment. The club also ran the Fort William Police Benevolent Fund. In May of 1950 the club amalgamated with the Fort William Police Association to become the Fort William Police Athletic Association (a name changed to Fort William Police Association in Oct. 1950). After this, its focus changed from athletics and entertainment to negotiating better working conditions and rates of pay.
