

A115

Ray Leslie McMahon fonds

Originals and copies, 1941-1945

Scope and Content: Containing 3 series, material related to time served in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Series A 115/1/1-4: Flight Material, 1941-1945

- 1) Log Books
- 2) Weather and Flight Forecasts
- 3) Flight Reports
- 4) Target Token

Series A 115/2/1-3: Learning Material, 1942

- 1) 2 Notebooks, no dates
- 2) RCAF Manual of Winter Operations, 1942
- 3) Meteorology- Cloud Atlas for Aviators, Meteorology and Operational Flying, Meteorology for Pilots and Navigators, Meteorology Section 1 Notes for Students, 1942

Series A 115/3/1-3: Miscellaneous

- 1) Service and Pay Book
- 2) Certificate of Promotion- appointment to Flight Officer
- 3) New Testament

Biographical Sketch: R.L McMahon was born September 22, 1917. He was a navigator in the 419th Squadron (The Moose) of the RCAF during World War II. The majority of his bombing runs were conducted at night. While a part of this squadron, he received several battle honours. After the war, he lived in Fort William and worked as a repairman for Buchanan and Johnson Electrical.

Additional Information:

See also related collection: maps